

Parent Workshop Series

The Home - School Connection

There are 3 more PTO sponsored workshops for this year.

Child care is now offered as a free service for anyone in need. If you would like to take advantage of this service, please respond to the program coordinator in advance.

1

Divorce and Blended Families

March 29, 2006

Oak Middle School

Mindy Sefton
Jeff Chin (SYFS)

This workshop will focus on a discussion of divorce, remarriage, and blending family issues, as it relates to daily functioning for both children and adults. There will be a video presentation with real-life children from divorced /remarried / blended families, speaking about their experiences and insights.

2

Learning Styles

April 5, 2006

Beal School
Gymnasium

Darcy Messineo
Karen Kowaleski

Different people learn in different ways. Some students are visual learners while others respond better to auditory clues. Darcy and Karen will share their expertise on various Learning Styles.

3

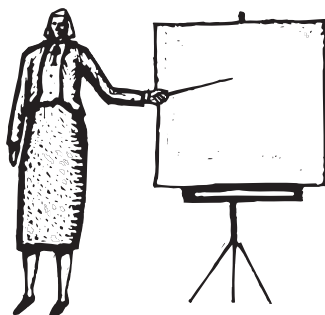

Parenting in a Standards Based World

April 12, 2006

Floral Street School
Media Center

Margaret Welch
Carol Bradley

Students are being evaluated on how well they reach standards set for them by the state and their teachers. Learn more about how students are being evaluated.
